

06/04/2016

Dear Colleagues,

It is a pleasure for us to cordially welcome you to the beautiful city of Berlin to attend a Masterclass program on autoinflammatory diseases that will take place from April 28th to April 29th, 2016 at the Kaiserin-Friedrich-Stiftung, located next to Charité-Universitätsmedizin, Campus Mitte. The meeting and its content will be held by the interdisciplinary Autoinflammation Reference Center (ARC²) team. The faculty consists of autoinflammatory disease specialists from national expert centers and includes paediatric and adult rheumatologists, dermatologists, neurologists and ophthalmologists.

Our aim is to offer an educational forum and scientific exchange on rare IL-1 β -mediated autoinflammatory diseases. We will provide lectures and workshops on diagnostic tools and management strategies and also discuss selected clinical cases presented by you and the faculty. For that, we encourage you to actively participate and share your own experience of interesting case reports. Enclosed you will find the Masterclass agenda and a case study template which may be used in preparation for your case study.

Should you have any questions regarding the program, please feel free to contact Nadja Tampier (0049 30 450 518 438 or autoinflammation@charite.de).

We very much hope that you are able to attend this outstanding educational activity.

Best regards,

PD Dr. Eugen Feist PD Dr. Tilmann Kallinich PD Dr. Karoline Krause
(Rheumatology) (Paediatrics) (Dermatology/Allergy)